Sandlot Fans Turn Cut To Witness Title Games

Four Thousand Watch Marines and Machinists Battle to a Tie-Immanuel Trims Rosedale.

ROUNDTREE THE HERO

By JOHN A. DUGAN.

All aboard. We are on to Richmond. This was heard on every side by some 8.000 amateur baseball fans yesterday who attended the three games in the two sections, where the cream of local nines are batting for the District championship. On the field across the river the largest crowd that ever journeyed to Anacostia to witness a ball game were on hand and the echoes from the thrills and exciting moments handed the he entire Capitol Hill.

fans of Mount Pleasant turned out in a good number to see their representatives in this title series come out on the long end of the score, while the visitors who arrived at Union Station were amazed to learn that only two amateur clubs were meeting, as the noise and rooting of the fans present on the field east of the terminal station ded one of a real battle for the world's championship.

Long will the clout of Johnny "Blick" Roundtree, of the Machinist club be re-membered by the loyal rooters from the Navy Yard as it was his timely wallop in the seventh frame which tied the count in this contest five all and put the "Gunmen" back in the running for the title. This little second sacker who has always been considered by his followers as a weak "willow wielder," came through in the pinch and proved to be the hero of the first day's play in the amateur title series. With one down Giovannetti doubled to left field and the hopes of the fans from Uncle Sam's runshop were not any too high when Roundtree stepped to the plate, but "Blick" made good and last night nothing in southeast Washington was too good for him.

Due to poor fielding in the pinches, the fans from out the "Toll Gate" way yaw their prides so down to defeat before the Immanuel Churchmen by a 6-to-2 count. Although in the ninth, with no one out, the Rosedale crew made a game attempt at the "come back" act. but owing to darkness Umpire Kerper halted the game. Keller proved for seven innings to be worthy opponents for the crack Agriculture team, but young Flaherty got a case of stage fright in the eighth and the Farmers chase! a quartet of tallies across the counting block, making the result read: Aggies, 8; Keller, 4.

Machinists, 5; Marines, 5.

The Marines and the Navy Yard Machinists batted to a draw in the Section A on the diamond across the river before a crowd of 4,000 sandlot fans, Umpire Betts calling the game in the ecross the pan, which appeared to clinch the game until the final session, when "Blick" Roundtree clouted one over Walbridge's head for a home run, scoring Giovannetti ahead of him, who had pre-viously doubled. Because of an agreement before the game to stop when effag at the navy yard was lowered be-tween Manager Bayllas, of the Marines, on first and second base.

Denman had been going bad in this session, and Manager Bayliss sent Oicott to the mound. He had given three balls to Schoofield, who was batting when the game was called The timely hitting Walbridge and Strain and the fielding hitting of Beard at the initial sack for the Ma-chinists were the features. tween the competing teams.

The Interior Department boasts many prominent tennis players, most of whom have been participating in the present tournament. Chief among those whose work in the tourney has attracted attention are John B. Beadle, D. M. Greene. H. O. Clayton, Dr. Hugh A. Brown and Dr. and Mrs. E. J. Kempf.

Beadle captured the tinal round of the singles from Clayton in a hard-fought match on Friday and has also been with the topnotchers in the doubles. With Dr. Brown he fought his way down to the finals of the men's doubles, and with Mrs. E. W. Ballard has a good chance of winning the mixed doubles, and with Mrs. E. W. Ballard has a good chance of winning the mixed doubles.

D. M. Greene is chairman of the tennis committee of the club, and it has been largely due to his enthusiasm and love of the game, combined with his almost inexhnustible energy, that the present tournament has been such a success and that the club has launched upon such an ambilitous campaign for the balance of the summer. Greene fought his way down through the large entry list in the men's singles, only to be eliminated by napp in the semi-finals.

Mr. and Mrs. Kempf are both players of more than usual skill and ability, Mrs.
